

DIVIDED

Partition Memoirs from Two Bengals

Edited by

Angshuman Kar

Ramanuj Konar teaches English literature to undergraduate students at Sarat Centenary College, Dhaniakhali, Hooghly. His doctoral research was on the representation of childhood in Australian Aboriginal theatre. His recent interest areas are literatures from the North-East of India and Heritage Studies.

Sambuddha Ghosh is an Assistant Professor of English (WBES) and a contemporary Bengali poet. He is presently posted at the Department of English, Krishnagar Government College. He has submitted his PhD dissertation, a comparative and cross-cultural study on the poetry of exile in the 20th century in the work of Derek Walcott, Joseph Brodsky, Seamus Heaney and Reinaldo Arenas from the Department of English, Jadavpur University, in 2022.

Samrat Laskar is an Associate Professor of English in the West Bengal Education Service. After teaching in different colleges across the state, he is presently serving as a Joint Director of Public Instruction, Education Directorate, Government of West Bengal at GTA, Darjeeling.

Sanjoy Malik is Assistant Professor in the Department of English and Culture Studies, The University of Burdwan, West Bengal. His doctoral thesis was on the poetry of Imtiaz Dharker. He has been published in many reputed national and international journals. His areas of interest include Gender Studies, Diaspora Studies, and Postcolonial Studies.

Saugata Kumar Nath is an Associate Professor at the Department of English, Assam University, Silchar. He has researched on Indian Writing in English for M Phil and PhD Degrees. His areas of interest include Drama Studies, Indian Writing in English, Translation Studies, and Gender Studies. His critical essays have been published in several edited books and journals. He has also co-edited Drama: Theory, Text, and Performance.